

Coloplast and the war in Ukraine

Since the outbreak of the war in Ukraine, Coloplast has been focused on the safety of our employees and that of their families. We continue to monitor the situation in close contact with our Ukrainian colleagues and offer our support when needed to ensure their wellbeing.

Coloplast also supports humanitarian organisations on the ground in Ukraine. So far, we have made large donations of wound care products worth 10+ million DKK (1.3+ million EUR) to organisations such as the Red Cross to support those impacted by the war. And we continue to provide additional donations when requested by the humanitarian organisations. Further, the Aage and Johanne Louis-Hansen Foundation (Coloplast's founders) has made a money donation worth of 12 million DKK (1.6 million EUR) to the Red Cross, UNICEF, and Save the Children.

Coloplast's priority is also on continuing our supply of products to our users. We provide essential products like ostomy bags and catheters that are necessary for people to maintain a dignified life. Our position is that under no circumstances should people living with intimate chronic conditions be without essential products and treatment. Since March 2022, Coloplast has, however, halted all new investments in Russia. Today, our focus is primarily on serving our existing users of ostomy products and catheters in the country.
